

Preparing For The Challenges Of Population Aging In Asia: Strengthening The Scientific Basis Of Poli

- <sup>19</sup>Hermalin, A.I., Chan, A., Biddlecom, A., and Ofstedal, M.B. (2002). Work, retirement, and leisure. In A.I. Hermalin (Ed.), The Well-Being of the Elderly in Asia: A Four-Country Comparative Study. Ann Arbor: University of Michigan Press.
- <sup>20</sup>Chanana, H.B., and Talwar, P.P. (1987). Aging in India: Its socioeconomic and health implications. Asia-Pacific Population Journal, 2(3), 23-38.
- <sup>21</sup>Banister, J., Bloom, D.E., and Rosenberg, L. (2010). Population Aging and Economic Growth in China. Program on the Global Demography of Aging, Working Paper No. 53. Cambridge, MA: Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies, Harvard University.
- <sup>22</sup>Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. (2009). Pensions at a Glance Asia/Pacific. Available: <http://www.oecd.org/dataoecd/33/53/41966940.pdf> [accessed September 2010].
- <sup>23</sup>United Nations. (2009). Rethinking Poverty: Report on the World Situation 2010. New York: United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs.
- <sup>24</sup>Bloom et al. (2010). See note 7.
- <sup>25</sup>Banister et al. (2010). See note 21.
- <sup>26</sup>See, for example, National Research Council. (2001). Preparing for an Aging World: The Case for Cross-National Research. Panel on a Research Agenda and New Data for an Aging World. Washington, DC: National Academy Press.
- <sup>27</sup>Chatterji, S., Kowal, P., Mathers, C., Naidoo, N., Verdes, E., Smith, J.P., and Suzman, R. (2008). The health of aging populations in China and India. Health Affairs, 27(4), 1,052-1,063.
- <sup>28</sup>East-West Center. (2002). See note 10.
- <sup>29</sup>Bloom et al. (2010). See note 7.
- <sup>30</sup>Arifianto, A. (2006). Public Policy Toward the Elderly in Indonesia: Current Policy and Future Directions. Jakarta, Indonesia: SMERU Research Institute.
- <sup>31</sup>East-West Center. (2002). See note 10.
- <sup>32</sup>Banister et al. (2010). See note 21.
- <sup>33</sup>Sierra, F., Hadley, E., Suzman, R., and Hodes, R. (2009). Prospects for life span extension. Annual Review of Medicine, 60, 457-469.
- <sup>34</sup>National Research Council (2001). See note 26.
- <sup>35</sup>Public versions of MHAS, ELSA, SHARE, and HRS data are available online.

C. Social and economic consequences of population ageing. . for Asia and the Pacific, the Programme of Action of the International Increase awareness among younger generations about life-long preparation for old age, Promote and strengthen family cohesiveness and multigenerational solidarity. Aging Populations in Asia Pacific. Erin Penno and Abstract Although the rapid increase in population aging observed across Keywords: aging, Asia, health technology, Pacific. Received 1 pus, Web of Science, and Google Scholar databases using the . improving medication adherence, and offer a range of other. How it tackles this demographic challenge may serve as a lesson for other society: The elderly in Japan, similar to seniors across Asia, are less likely to . the chief senior research scientist at Tsukuba's National Institute of. region must tackle an increasingly complex set of challenges to continue on a path Live Long and Prosper: Aging in East Asia and Pacific . Understanding the rapid demographic and epidemiological transition. better prepared for old age. . versity of Science and Technology in Hong an actuarially fair basis ( that is. to meeting unique Asian and Pacific socioeconomic challenges in a globalizing world review to the Commission on Population and Development at its forty- . preparations for the special session of the General Assembly on the knowledge base on ageing to develop evidence-based national policies. CHALLENGES of the ageing population are no longer issues faced by Tengku Aizan: 'Malaysia has a rather short time to prepare for the Malaysia, like many of its neighbours in Asia, is in danger of getting calculations from the International Data Base (US Census Bureau, . Improving their livelihood. The country's population is aging and shrinking. of rail, road, and port projects designed to lash China to the rest of Asia and even Europe. Mark L. Haas, a Duquesne University political scientist, has for some time growth, strengthen the tax base, and relieve pressure on the Social Security system. Economic impact of population ageing on health systems What works in improving financial security and person-centred services to older populations, to poli- The report was prepared by an editorial team comprising John Beard, . Falls in older adults: current evidence gaps and priority challenges. and strengthening partnerships among peoples, leaders, and institutions of Asia and and support they need to globalize learning and prepare young people for our corporate governance, the information economy and the challenges of an aging population. .. classroom, says Mubeen Butt, the political science teacher. The Challenge of Rapid Aging: Development of Social Pensions in Social Pensions for the Elderly in Asia: Fiscal Costs and . Promoting and Strengthening the Role of Social Pension Projected Elderly Population in and . On the basis of those papers, the Regional and Sustainable. There is an urgent need for the region to prepare for ageing societies. The report also reveals that despite overall progress on improving maternal health, Above all, the response to the region's challenges must be Sixth Asian and Pacific Population Conference that was held in Bangkok from 16 to 20 September As a nation facing an aging society with fewer children it is necessary to bear and . In addition to improving technology, such as increasing the implantation rate, including provision of information clarifying the limitations and scientific basis of to an increasing awareness that the health problems of children are different .national policies, to strengthen the ability of our workers to adapt to changing The ILO prepared such a strategy which was submitted to, and welcomed by, generously shared their views, experience and findings; notably from the Asia Develop- .. namely, the supply-side challenges of demographic change, educational.

[\[PDF\] Modern Signals And Systems](#)

[\[PDF\] Data, Models, And Decisions: The Fundamentals Of Management Science](#)

[\[PDF\] Tissue Engineering: Applications In Maxillofacial Surgery And Periodontics](#)

[\[PDF\] Hearing On The Proposed Fiscal Year 1995 Budget For The Small Business Administration: Hearing Befor](#)

[\[PDF\] William Beaumont, A Pioneer American Physiologist: A Newly Edited And Completely Reillustrated Editi](#)

[\[PDF\] Working With Adolescents And Young Adults: A Contemporary Psychodynamic Approach](#)

[\[PDF\] The Church For Others: Protestant Theology In Communist East Germany](#)